

La Cienega Petroglyphs

I took these photos near La Cienega, New Mexico in 1988. This site had a large number of petroglyphs, of which these are just a small part. This area has been studied extensively, and is protected by the Bureau of Land Management. There are a number of other photos online, easily found with a Google search.

Two Web sites you might want to visit are the Galisteo Basin Archaeology site, and this site about La Cieneguilla, which shows a good view of the surrounding area, and a number of excellent photos of petroglyphs.
